

AP Human Geography
Summer 2017-2018

Prior to the start of the Fall semester 2017, AP HUG students must purchase and read the non-fiction book Why Geography Matters: More Than Ever, by Harm de Blij, published by Oxford University Press. Students may choose either print or ePub versions.

Please be prepared as there will be a quiz covering this material during the first week of school.

In addition, students may receive extra credit for AP HUG for reading the novel Shiloh Autumn by Bodie and Brock Thoene. You must also write a one to two page summary of the contents and be prepared to discuss the novel with the rest of the class.

If you have any questions, please contact Brock Thoene at bthoene@missionprep.org.
